No pressure Suzy, I really was hoping for this weekend. Have little control over the State concerns, may be the last hurdle. Still have to do some things with the ladders, cement has not set on the one at the deep end. Need to get the chlorinator operational also.

Maybe we'll see each other at the pool tomorrow. By the way, it's my private pool right now, I would have no concern about swimming in it.

Don't think that the pool will open this weekend. I bought a white board today so we could make a temporary sign. Let me know when you expect to be back on the island and we can meet over here. My life has been crazy. Nate's back is not any better. The doc couldn't give him the epidural because he moved too much so we are going in on Monday to Evergreen Spine and Back for conscious sedation. This has been interesting.

I'm hoping that things get better for him after Monday. Please keep bugging me because I get very distracted.

Thanks for all you are doing,

Suz

I will be gone most of Tuesday and Thursday to America. If you need my help to get the signs and flyer for this weekend, I will only have Wednesday. Hope the inspection is scheduled and we will be able to open this weekend.

Please review and make changes on copy at this point. I used the WACs to be sure we were covered, in addition to others I believe we should use. Can you think of any others?
