Hi Jean,

Looks like a diversely seasoned group bringing together good pool experience, history, brains and expertise. Lacking any of those attributes, of course I will join in order to ensure that vacuous ignorance is adequately represented.

While I hope all candidates agree to join this committee, if one or two opt out, might I suggest a possible objective and reasoned individual -- that would be Tim Dahl -- who last week wrote to me of his interest:

“I would be willing to assist with the construction and funding options [meaning the committee] as my time allowed.

It would need to be disclosed that I am obviously pro-pool, and a non-resident with above average means to financially participate in community support of the project. Having said that, I would not want to be accused of having an "agenda" in participating in such a committee.”

Tallyho,
Bob
