So you can correct your misstatements re missing documents. Way before my time and not while we had keys or during Dustin's presidency. The rekey was entirely unnecessary since it had just been done. It was Roger and then Sam by his own admission who removed documents. Sam said he returned most of them that he had.

I myself never stepped foot in there.

Maybe I am the last to know, but are you all aware that many documents were removed from the back office prior to my being on the Board, and during the time when Roger had access to the back office? In fact, the lock was changed so that he could not get in there and remove more. If this is indeed true, which no one seems to be able to prove, isn't there a way that we can demand that all documents that he removed from the premises be returned under penalty of the law? Board members can borrow documents but they must be returned when they leave
